NOTES ON THE EDUCATION OF THE DEAF.

A child born deaf, or becoming deaf in early infancy, has on entering school no knowledge of language. The only knowledge he has is purely sense knowledge; he has no knowledge of the significance of words—whether written, spelled on the fingers, or spoken. The hearing child learns to speak by imitating the sounds and words he hears from the people around him, and develops a knowledge of language from his earliest years. When he arrives at school age, he is in possession of an extensive knowledge of the English language, and has received the mental development which is brought about by the acquisition and use of language. The deaf child, because of his deafness, does not learn to speak, does not acquire any knowledge of language, and misses much of the mental development that should be going on from babyhood to the age at which school life begins. He remains in intellectual infancy until he is placed under instruction, and it is desirable that his education should be begun at as early an age as possible, while there is some definite relationship between his mental and physical growth. The greater the gap between these, the more difficult is the work of education, and the highest results are secured in the cases of children who enter school at an early age.

The acquisition of the English language is the basis of the education of the deaf. Instruction in the ordinary school subjects cannot be attempted until the pupil has sufficient language to enable the communication of the necessary ideas, and according to the degree of appreciation of language which necessarily varies with the varying intelligence of children, is progress made in other subjects. The development of language in a congenitally deaf child has been likened to the acquisition of a foreign language by a hearing person. This, however, is not a suitable illustration. The hearing person has all his knowledge of his native language to assist him in the interpretation of the foreign; whereas the deaf child, cut off as he is by his deafness from all knowledge of the vernacular of his country, has no such assistance.

The aim of the teacher of the deaf in developing a knowledge of language in his pupils is to follow, as nearly as possible, the manner in which the little hearing child acquires his knowledge in the natural way. All our methods and systems are based on the laws governing the acquisition of language by normal children.

There are two main methods of imparting instruction to deaf children—the ORAL METHOD and the SILENT METHOD. In the former, Speech and Speech-Reading are employed, and in the latter the Manual Alphabet; Writing being common to both. The choice of method for individual children is decided from considerations of age, condition, and capability.

The ORAL METHOD seeks to give the child an intelligible speech, and the ability to read from the lips the language of everyday life. The sounds employed in our language are taught separately, in the order of increasing difficulty. As the progress of the child permits, these sounds are combined into words, of which he is taught the meaning, and the words into phrases and sentences, very simple in the early stages, but gradually and continuously expanding.

In the SILENT METHOD, the letters of the alphabet are taught on the fingers. Its aims are similar to those of the ORAL METHOD—the only difference being that Speech and Speech-Reading are not attempted, the Manual Alphabet taking their place as a means of communication and of imparting information.

Both methods abound with difficulties, which continue throughout the whole of the child's school career.

It will be gathered that the work of educating the deaf cannot be compared with that of normal children. No comparison can reasonably be made between the attainments of deaf and hearing children, but there is every prospect that if a deaf child of average intelligence be placed under efficient instruction at an early age, he will, at the end of his school career, be in possession of a satisfactory knowledge of his mother tongue, and have received such instruction in general scholastic subjects as will enable him to take his place in the outside world.

Education for the deaf is an imperative necessity, because—

1. It establishes a means of communication with other people by speech or finger-spelling, and writing; and removes the isolation of earlier years.
2. It develops in the deaf child a knowledge of his mother tongue, and provides him with materials for thought, and with the means of communicating it.
3. It enables him, to a greater or less degree, to avail himself of the opportunities afforded for self-culture by the literature of his country.
4. It develops in him principles of honor, candour, and self-respect; and gives him a better and wider outlook on life.
5. It enables him to compete with his hearing fellows in industrial life, and to become a self-respecting and respected citizen; and in many cases prevents him becoming a useless burden on society.

The foregoing statement will give some idea of the magnitude of the work of the education of the deaf, and of the immense issues to the child and to society involved in the question. It will be readily understood that in order to accomplish the best that can be done, a deaf child should be placed under suitable instruction at the earliest possible age. Experience shows that the best and most effective means of educating deaf children is in such an Institution as New South Wales possesses in the Sydney Institution. Parents are naturally reluctant to send their children away from home at an early age; but having regard to the tremendous issues at stake, it is almost inconceivable that they should (as unfortunately some of them do) allow false conceptions of kindness and affection to stand in the way of their child's educational advancement.

FIFTY-EIGHTH ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE
New South Wales Institution for the Deaf and Dumb and the Blind.

For the Year Ended September 30, 1919.

—o—

The Directors beg to submit the following report on the work of the Institution for the past twelve months.

PUPILS.

The following table shows the number of pupils who have benefited during the year, the admissions and withdrawals, and the number remaining on the roll.

On Roll now

The above table shows a decrease of four, but, had it not been for the influenza epidemic, the number of pupils would probably have considerably increased, as several applications for admission were held up on that account and others postponed.

The school has been closed since March last, and the pupils have had but three months under instruction. Under these circumstances, it has not been possible to arrange for the usual annual inspection by Inspectors of the Department of Education. Their report for the previous year is, however, re-printed for the information of subscribers and others interested.

The average age of children admitted during the year was about $9\frac{1}{2}$ years, four being over 11 years.

Since most of our pupils leave school at the age of 16 years, it will be readily recognised that this loss of training in their early and most impressionable years is a great handicap to the Institution in its efforts, and to the children concerned.

In some cases, unfortunately, children are not even allowed to remain at school until they are 16 years old. Of those who were withdrawn during the year, four were under that age. One had been only $2\frac{1}{2}$ years at school, another $3\frac{1}{4}$ years, and another 5 years. It is impossible to thoroughly educate a blind or deaf child in so short a period; and in spite of all efforts, children who are thus deprived of their educational opportunities are placed at a great disadvantage.

On March 10th a deputation of the Directors attended at the Department of Education, interviewed Mr. Board, Under-Secretary, and presented him with a copy of a Bill for the compulsory education of the deaf and the blind which they had drawn. Mr. Board promised to submit the matter to the Minister, who, he was sure, would give it sympathetic consideration. After further action had been taken to expedite the matter, a letter was received from Mr. Board stating that a Bill had been drafted, and would, if circumstances permitted, be introduced to Parliament during the course of the forthcoming season. The Directors are, therefore, hopeful that something tangible will result very shortly.

School broke up for the Christmas holidays on December 19th. It was intended to re-open on the 3rd February, but owing to the influenza epidemic the re-opening was postponed till March 10th. Shortly afterwards the epidemic became worse, and great difficulty was experienced by the Government in finding accommodation for all the patients, therefore an urgent appeal was made to the Board for the use of the Institution as an emergency hospital. This was readily granted, and the pupils, after only three weeks at school, were returned home, the Government taking possession as from the 1st April. The loss to the children through the closing of the school is a very serious matter, but taking all the circumstances into consideration the Directors feel that they adopted the best course in sending the pupils home. Had they been kept in school, probably in spite of all precautions, the epidemic would have broken out amongst them with results which might have been disastrous.

A letter expressing the appreciation of the Government for the action of the Board in granting the use of the Institution has been received from the Hon. David Storey, Minister of Public Health, as follows:—

Office of Minister of Public Health,
Sydney, September 18th, 1919.

“Dear Sir,—

In intimating to you that the Government will not require the use of your Institution in City Road after the end of the present week, I desire to convey to you and your Committee the sincere thanks of the Government for having placed their building at its disposal in connection with the recent influenza epidemic.

The fact that such a building—which lent itself so admirably for the purpose for which it was requisitioned—was available at a time of great need was a very material assistance to the Government in dealing with the epidemic, and the ready manner in which your Committee so kindly acquiesced in allowing use of the premises for this purpose commends itself to the Government as a most generous act.

I also wish to refer with gratitude to the help afforded by the Committee in placing their staff at the disposal of the Government in the great emergency referred to.

Yours faithfully,

DAVID STOREY.”

Dr. George E. Rennie, Hon. Consulting Physician and Medical Inspector made his annual inspection of the pupils in November last and reported as follows:—

“I have the honor to report that I have again completed the medical inspection of all the children in the Institution.

1. The general health of the children has been good throughout the year.
2. A comparison of the physical condition of the children this year shows generally a marked improvement in healthy development and physique.
3. There are fewer cases of serious mental deficiency; and the new admissions, mostly quite young children, are of a better type, and promise better results from the education and training in the Institution.”

The children's sports took place on Tuesday, 5th November, on the Sydney Grammar School Sports ground, kindly lent for the occasion, and were largely attended. Everything passed off very happily, and there were many congratulations on the success of the effort. An excellent film showing a number of the events, was exhibited at some of the picture theatres.

Our deaf boys were again successful in the cricket field. When the school broke up for the Christmas holidays they had played six matches of which they had won five. Owing to the influenza epidemic no further matches were played.

Our deaf-blind pupil, Alice Betteridge, under Miss Reid's skilful tuition, continues to make excellent progress with her studies. She came within three points of the first position in competition for the Spittles' legacy prizes, a very creditable performance. Alice is now over 18 years of age, and the question of her future is one that will require early consideration.

FINANCIAL.

The income for the past year shows a very considerable reduction on that of the previous one. Subscriptions received total £362/1/- less, owing mainly to the pneumonic influenza epidemic, which has seriously affected the receipts both in the city and the country.

Legacies from the undermentioned estates have been received:—Herbert Shackelford Gibson, £100; John Clifford Hallam, £100; David Morrice, £100; James Bartlett, £50, making a total to date of £520; Thomas Goodman (balance), £81/17/10, making a total of £1,481/17/10; Hon. Charles Moore, £16/13/4, making a total of £100. There was also a donation of £50 from the Trustees of the "Walter and Eliza Hall" Trust. The above have all been placed to the credit of the Perpetual Subscribers' Fund, of which only the interest is used for the general purposes of the Institution.

There was also a legacy of £5 from the estate of the late John Henry Collins, which was placed to the credit of the Building Fund Account.

The following special donations were also received:—£210 from the United Charities Fund; £50 from Mr. Frank Grimley (including £20 for gymnastic apparatus); £20 from Mr. Robert Vicars for the purchase of tables; £20 from the Hon. Sir Henry Stephen; £21 from Miss Vickery; £10/10/- from Mrs. M. Duff Harris for the purchase of blankets; £10 from the Australian Jockey Club; £10 from Howard Smith, Limited; £10 from "A.A.;" and £5/5/- from Colonel Oswald Watt.

For all these legacies and donations, as well as for ordinary subscriptions, the Directors are extremely thankful, and hope to be favoured with many others.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS AND LADIES' VISITING COMMITTEE.

John H. S. Angus, Esq., was appointed a member of the Board in July last to fill a vacancy. He retires in accordance with the by-laws, is a candidate for re-election, and has given the requisite notice.

There has been no change in the Ladies' Visiting Committee during the year, but Mrs. T. Storie Dixon has been granted leave of absence for four months.

Owing to the influenza epidemic the Ladies have not had so many meetings as usual, but nevertheless the service they have afforded has been highly appreciated, and the warmest thanks of the Board are due to them for the valuable co-operation they have so kindly and efficiently rendered in many ways.

The Directors are pleased to be able to place on record the fact that Dr. E. Selwyn Harrison, who has been on active service for about three years, has returned safely, and will again take up duty as Honorary Physician.

The Directors desire to express their gratitude to the Hon. Officers of the Institution, who have always willingly and efficiently fulfilled the duties pertaining to their positions. The gratuitous performance of these duties saves the Institution funds a considerable amount in the course of a year, therefore the Directors feel that their warmest thanks are due to all who have rendered assistance in this way, and they have placed on record their appreciation of the services which have thus been afforded.

OFFICIAL STAFF.

In connection with the influenza epidemic a number of the officers and teachers tendered their services to the Government when the Institution was taken over for hospital purposes, and were accepted. Mr. Earlam (superintendent) was appointed manager, and Mrs. Clarke (matron) continued in that position while the epidemic lasted. These and other members of the staff rendered most excellent service under very trying circumstances.

Mr. C. H. Haylett, B.A., teacher, resigned his position to accept another engagement in England, and severed his connection with the Institution in September

Miss E. A. Thorn, another teacher, also resigned and returned to England in June last.

Mr. John O. Love, who has been on active service with the A.I.F. for the past three years, is expected to return very soon to resume duty as a teacher.

GENERAL.

Mr. John E. Branch, Superintendent of Drawing for the Department of Education, inspected the drawing and art work of the Deaf School in October last, and reported as follows:—"The work throughout is excellent. The Courses of Study have been admirably planned to develop to as high a degree as possible the faculties which these incapacitated children possess. Extremely careful observation of form, colour, growth, and construction is shown. The skill developed is exceptional. In the Upper Classes the designs of the boys and the Calendars of the girls are of Commercial value.—John E. Branch.”

At the special request of Mr. Branch, a selection of drawings executed by our pupils was sent for display in the Public Schools Exhibition of Drawing and Art Work at the Department of Education.

During the year tuition in speech-reading has been continued by the Superintendent, and some of the teachers to a number of returned soldiers, with beneficial results.

With unfailing kindness, Mr. F. H. Dangar, of London, again provided his annual treat of fruit, cake, and sweets for the children prior to the breaking-up of the school for the Christmas holidays. His generosity in this connection is very highly appreciated.

The Directors have also to acknowledge their obligations to the Y.M.C.A. for kindly providing a room for the meetings of the Board during the influenza epidemic.

CONCLUSION.

In conclusion, the Directors desire to express their gratitude to Almighty God for His protecting care over the officers and pupils of the Institution during the recent epidemic, and for the liberal financial support which has been accorded and which they hope will be continued and extended.

W. H. SIMPSON, President.

ARTHUR H. LOVE, Hon. Secretary.

Superintendent's Annual Report

TO THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS,—

Gentlemen,—In presenting my Ninth Annual Report, I have to express regret that the exceptional circumstances of the present year have deprived our blind and deaf children of so many valuable months of education. The condition of our schools at the time of my last report was a quite efficient one; and there was every promise of an exceedingly successful and telling year's work. Between September of last year and the Christmas vacation steady work was maintained and successful results achieved in both schools. The children's sports, held on November 5th at the Sydney Grammar School Sports Ground, were particularly successful, and were by many adjudged to have surpassed all previous efforts of this nature. They attracted much attention, and demonstrated in the happiest manner the extent to which our physical development work is carried, its obvious effects on the children, and the strides we are making in our efforts to carry the children to the goal of absolute normality.

Careful and detailed examination of all classes, and in all subjects, at the end of 1919 gave the assurance of satisfactory and progressively successful work; and I was able to report to you at that time that "the physical condition and alertness of our children, their interest and response in their school work, their extending intelligence and knowledge, their developing expression in language, and, above all, their normal appearance and attitude towards themselves and the world in general, are sufficiently conclusive that the Institution's effort is being rightly directed, and that continuance of present effort can have no other effect than expanding success."

The resumption of school after the Christmas holidays was anticipated by me with more than the usual degree of confidence; but the influenza epidemic, in the first place, caused a postponement of the date of re-opening, and, subsequently, after less than three weeks' actual school work, complete closure, which has extended up to the present time. Under these circumstances, I am unable to report on our work in other than the foregoing general terms; but I have no hesitation in saying, and my judgment in this matter is confirmed by the reports of the Government inspectors, that our schools were never in more efficient condition than at the end of last year, and that under ordinary circumstances, the year's record would have been an excellent one.

The loss our children have suffered is, particularly in view of the short average school life of the blind and deaf of New South Wales, incalculable, and its effects will be felt for a long time; but it must be recognised that the closure of the school, situated as it is in the midst of what became a veritable hotbed of infection, was undoubtedly in the best interests of the children. Regret at the educational loss we deplore must also be tempered by the knowledge that the Institution has rendered a magnificent public service in a great national emergency.

ALICE BETTERIDGE, OUR DEAF-BLIND PUPIL, AND HER TEACHER, MISS REID, B.A.

MISS FLORA A. BRITON,
Country Representative.

MRS. E. R. C. HALL,
City and Suburban Representative.

On the re-opening of the schools at the beginning of January, we shall inevitably be faced with many problems. All the difficulties of a difficult work will be intensified as a result of the occurrences of the present year. The loss of two experienced members of the teaching staff during the year is unfortunate; but I know that in the important and even critical work ahead I can look for increased effort on the part of the teachers, and an enthusiastic determination to minimise in every possible way the loss the children have sustained. By more intensive work and method much may be possible; and it is my earnest hope that the approaching year may be a noteworthy one for achievement, and that the results secured may be such as to largely compensate for the unfortunate year now ended.

The voluntary work undertaken by the male teachers and myself in the interests of returned soldiers has been continued. I have continued speech-training to soldiers who from shell shock or injury have lost the power of speech, and though there was an unavoidable break of instruction at the time of the epidemic, the results have been valuable. Instruction in Speech-reading to deaf ex-soldiers has also been continued. Several have completed the course with beneficial results; others are now at varying stages of progress, instruction in each case being individual.

I have continued my work on the Vocational Committee of the State War Council, of which I have been a member since its formation some four years ago; and during the present year I have attended over 50 Committee or Sub-Committee meetings. This represents another contribution to public service by the Institution; and while it has made great calls on me, I have been glad, both as the representative of the Institution and personally, to be associated with such an important and valuable part of Repatriation work.

I beg to remain, Gentlemen,

Yours faithfully,

HAROLD EARLAM,

Superintendent.

EXPLANATORY NOTE.

The pupils having been absent from school since the end of March until the close of the year, owing to the pneumonic influenza epidemic, there was no examination this year by the Government Inspectors, but their previous year's report is re-printed below for general information.

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION.
INSPECTOR'S REPORT.

NEW SOUTH WALES INSTITUTION FOR THE DEAF, DUMB, AND BLIND.

Visited 23rd and 24th September, 1918.

This Institution holds a deservedly high place in the estimation of our people. Except, perhaps, the hospitals, there is no charitable organisation which commends itself so heartily to the practical sympathy of a generous public. The cause is obvious. The Board aims at preparing children, who are deprived of one or more senses, to meet life's obligations in a cheerful and efficient manner. The magnitude of such a task is freely admitted, the difficulties many, and the expense correspondingly great; yet such conditions must be overcome, otherwise a proportion of our Deaf and Dumb and a larger proportion of the Blind, will degenerate into mendicants. Thanks to this Institution, there are few of this class in N.S.W. Unfortunately, there are some, for no intelligent citizen is deceived by the proffered matches or bootlaces—a cloak to cover the objectionable solicitation. We venture to state that, if the advantages of this school for afflicted children were fully embraced there would be very little, if any, excuse for a blind mendicant. But here we touch a weakness that has been referred to time and again. There is no Compulsory Education Act for the Deaf, Dumb, and Blind. In consequence, affectionate, but unwise parents cling to their afflicted child until years of valuable school life are wasted, apparently oblivious of the grave fact that the day must come when their oversight will cease. In the meantime the child grows to maturity without proper education, and often becomes, owing to his lack of training, a selfish, querulous, and useless unit of the community. As things exist, a blind child need not attend school at all. Or he may come here when the parents wish, and leave at any time. For example, Class IV. of the Blind School has reached the average age of 12 years 4 months. These children have been less than three years, on the average, at school. In other words, they did not attend until about 9½ years of age—an almost irreparable loss of 2½ years of school life. This is bad, but it is worse still when they leave (as they may) long before their education has passed the elementary stage. If a Compulsory Act is necessary in the case of the normal child, surely it is doubly so in the case of the Deaf, Dumb, and Blind.

Government.

The school is excellently controlled. The spirit of the classrooms is one of cheerful interest and industry. It is at once apparent that the relationship between teachers and pupils is of the friendliest character. The impressions made at the commencement of the inspection were fully confirmed by two days' close observation of the school in both its indoor and playground activities.

The smiling countenances of the deaf children when approached or spoken to by the Superintendent, and the free and natural responses of the blind pupils when addressed by him in school or outside, indicated that the children regard Mr. Earlam not only as the head of the establishment, but as their big sympathetic friend. And this spirit of mutual regard and trustfulness between all the staff teachers and their charges is the keynote of the happy tone of the whole place.

The system of Physical Training is excellently carried out. The exercises are performed quite as efficiently as in a well-conducted State school. The senior pupils—those who have been at the school some years—are well set up.

Various and well-organised forms of outdoor sports are regularly carried out in the spacious and grassy playing field. The deaf boys excel in football, and have again won the British Association Football Competition, C grade. The deaf girls have a fine tennis court. The blind boys and blind girls enter into their own forms of sport with equal zest. The teachers are to be commended for the great interest they show in this part of their important work, and particularly for the happy and natural way in which they mingle with the children during these recreation periods.

The School for the Deaf.

The nine classes in this department range in average age from 7 years 1 month to 15 years 9 months. In all but the two senior groups boys and girls are taught together. In no class does the enrolment exceed 13. As the teaching must be entirely "individual"—the ordinary channel of instruction, the sense of hearing, being closed against the teachers—it will readily be seen that only small classes can be handled successfully.

The teaching method recognises that mere manual, or finger alphabet instruction can give but a meagre measure and a lifeless quality of language training to the deaf. Consequently the oral method with accompanying lip reading, is the rule of all class-room practice here. In order to give these children an after-life power to move with comparative ease and intelligence amongst their more fortunate fellows, this oral method is essential. Conversation by the manual or finger method is not, therefore, carried on in the class-rooms during the ordinary lessons.

It has been found that about ten per cent. of the pupils are incapable of useful response to oral teaching. For this reason these particular pupils are segregated in what is known as the "Silent Class."

Then there is a "Special Class" of sight pupils, who, from one reason or another—very late enrolment, subnormal mental equipment, etc., cannot be classified in the ordinary standards. The skilful organisation by the Superintendent thus takes note of every individual case, and makes sure that the school time of each is spent to the best possible advantage.

All classes were closely inspected, and the children's progress in the acquirement of a knowledge of language, their ability to speak ordinary everyday expressions intelligibly, and to understand by "lip reading" the remarks made by their teachers, were examined.

The work of instruction, though most carefully graded and painstaking, is beset with difficulty, and the progress of the pupils to be sound must be slow.

However, it was clearly demonstrated that by skilful use of well-chosen visible aids in the lower classes the little ones had acquired a good elementary knowledge of a system of phonics which enabled them to distinguish "f" sound in such a word as "foot," and its variations, as in the word "cough." In the next class monosyllables such as "dog," "path," etc., were readily recognised when written on the blackboard, and the association of the words with objects or pictures was soundly established.

By the time the higher grades were reached, it was possible to make an ordinary continuous statement intelligible to the pupils by their ability to "lip read."

The effort to secure speech power is pursued right through the ordinary classes of the school with much painstaking measures. The result, considering all difficulties, is very satisfactory.

The eagerness with which the pupils of the middle classes individually bade us "good morning," and inquired as to our condition of health, reflected the pride they felt in their speech accomplishment.

Written Composition is commenced in the 8th Class in the form of simple little sentences, and expands during the course of the school until the higher classes are found to be able to write with facility, personal letters, accounts of excursions, descriptions of the latest war developments, observations in Nature Study, etc. The class "diary" is full and explicit, and trains the children in the setting down of incidents in proper sequence.

The difficulties connected with verbal tenses, especially the variations of the verb "to be," are successfully overcome in classes 3, 4, and 5.

The writing in the lower grades is good, and farther on a free style is observed. In some classes the writing might with advantage be larger, and regular practice of graded formal exercises would likely give a more uniformly good quality to the penmanship of the senior classes.

Number work is taught on the concrete plan. Steady progress is made. Whilst the Arithmetic of the Upper Classes is very creditable in range, it would perhaps be well for the class teachers to seek for greater accuracy in ordinary money operations of a practical character.

The Manual Training covers a wide course of occupations, and is effectively organised. In woodwork the educational purpose is fully realised. Other forms of hand and eye training include modelling in clay, raffia and paper work, cane weaving, cardboard modelling, sewing and knitting, dressmaking, millinery, crocheting and fancy needlework. The girls are further taught darning, cookery, and starching and ironing, and the boys are specially instructed in boot-repairing and gardening.

The Blind School.

Miss R. S. Reid, B.A., and three assistants, control the Blind School. One of the assistants is Miss Dawson, appointed during the year. This lady is an ex-pupil of the school. She is totally blind, but her presence has created possibly a deeper bond of sympathy between the staff and the pupils. We are unable, however, to commend the appointment of more than one blind teacher.

English is a very satisfactory subject. After one year the majority of the pupils can read and write simple sentences equal in difficulty to any found in our First Reader. Tests were also given from untried lessons, with fair results, not one pupil had any knowledge of the Braille before enrolment, hence the progress is good. In the highest class, Shakespeare, Tennyson, and other standard authors are read with ease. In several cases expressions and suitable modulation were noted. Works on History, Travel, and the best class of fiction are read. The Library has a potent influence for good. Four works on the current war have already been added. Several of the finest extracts from the Poets have been memorised and discussed. The beautiful thoughts so learnt have apparently appealed to more than one of these children, and are likely to bring solace in lonely hours. Spelling was tested in lower classes—average mistakes about two (2), which may be regarded as satisfactory. Some of the written composition is of high merit. The following quotation is from the essay of a girl whom we knew as "Myra." Subject: "Should the German Colonies be Restored After the War": "I believe that the British treat their subjects better than any other power in the world, but no one who has any moral sense at all would care to have as neighbours the people who are responsible for such outrages as the sinking of the Lusitania, the murder of Nurse Cavell, and, worst of all, the spoiling of that brave little nation of which we are so proud. Nor do I think we should be justified in handing over to such a people the inhabitants of islands captured or taken by the Germans."

Round this extract a short discussion followed, which demonstrated the intelligence of Miss Reid's pupils. The seclusion arising from blindness gives unlimited opportunities for reflection to these blind students.

Mathematics.—This branch is, of course, on mental lines. The tables are fairly grounded in lower classes, where the pupils are also taught the uses and relative value of coins. The seniors did well in domestic accounts, proportion, practice, interest, and general percentages. Some useful elementary mensuration is taught. Geography is given from the Commercial side. Trade routes, Australian exports and imports, industries, etc., are discussed.

History.—The main facts of English and Australian history have been studied. Stories of Australian explorations seem to hold the pride of place among the boys at least. One ventured to think and to state that Sturt did more for the Empire than many kings. The pupils have opinions. It was gratifying to note that Miss Reid encouraged them to state their convictions freely. At the same time they are taught to respect the opinions of others who hold different views.

Singing.—Sweet sounds for the Blind must take the place that beautiful scenes do for the Deaf. Very rightly, therefore, songs are prominent in the routine, and are sung very heartily to the accompaniment of music. The time was good, but the tone just a little too loud, as a rule.

Manual Work.—It is recognised that a well-graded comprehensive system of manual training is the most essential part of the education of the Blind. Their livelihood will largely depend upon their manual skill. The majority of these pupils enter the Industrial Blind Institution in William Street. Hence the Superintendent has wisely stressed the importance of Manual Training. It commences in the lowest classes, where Kindergarten occupations, Raffia Winding, Plaiting, Beadwork, and Clay-modelling are taught. Intermediate classes take Rug-making and Raffia Coiled Work. Senior Girls do Knitting and Cane-Basketry; Senior Boys, Chair-caneing, Cane-basketry, and Light Woodwork. Much of the work would compare favourably with that done in our ordinary schools. Two items—the work of Alice Betteridge, a blind and deaf girl—deserve special mention. They consist of a child's woollen jacket and a pair of men's socks. How such exactness and finish can be attained by a girl totally blind and deaf is marvellous. It is certainly a tribute to the excellent work done in the Institution.

Here again another problem arises. Blind children, like all others, vary in gifts and aptitudes. Some will never excel in manual work. They may acquire sufficient skill to earn a bare living, but, surely this is not sufficiently satisfactory. Few other avenues of employment are open to them. This problem can only be solved after a Compulsory Act secures a sound primary education for all; then takes them through a Continuation, and, finally, a Special Course that, in spite of blindness, will fit them for vocations from which they are now practically debarred.

The Teaching Staff.

In addition to the Superintendent, the regular staff comprises five male, all employed in the Deaf School, and eight female teachers equally divided between the Deaf and the Blind Schools.

The practical experience of the teachers in this special class of work ranges from six months to thirty years. Included in the staff are three University Graduates, one of whom, Mr. Love, is away on Active Service.

In the existing economic conditions, the staff may be considered adequate, but in view of the possibility of one or more of the teachers leaving, it is advisable—on account of the special training necessary—to have always one extra probationer in reserve. We recommend this matter for the consideration of the Board.

Besides the Regular Staff, there are five teachers of Special subjects. Two of these—Mrs. Earlam (wife of the Superintendent) and Mr. E. J. Bignold—are purely honorary. Mr. Bignold very kindly instructs the boys in gymnastics, and Mrs. Earlam teaches fancy needlework to the deaf girls. A close inspection of the work done revealed the marked ability of the instructress and the diligence and artistic taste of many of the children.

The teachers throughout the Institution are competent, and their devotion to duty most commendable.

Management.

There can be no question respecting the progressive management of the Institution, which is up to date, and a credit to our State. During the past six (6) years, the Board and the Superintendent have, inter alia, provided additional sick wards, nurses' rooms, bathrooms, and a hospital kitchen. Hot water, electric light, auxiliary gas and electric bell systems have been installed. Ophthalmic work and dentistry have received increased attention. Additional playground and a new tennis court for girls have been completed. The excellent library for teachers and pupils has been augmented, and an additional qualified teacher appointed. Many other evidences of the Board's successful efforts to promote the education, comfort, health, and safety of the pupils were noted.

The well-kept gardens are at present very beautiful. One screen of sweet-peas has reached the remarkable height of 12ft. 6in. The dormitories, dining-rooms, kitchens, etc., show the same care, economy, and scrupulous cleanliness referred to in preceding reports. The pupils receive wholesome and sufficient food. They are suitably clothed, happy, and progressing in their studies.

Parents are assured they need have no dread or misgivings about sending their children to this Institution. It is not a penitentiary. It is often miscalled an Asylum—a word that grates and is not applicable. It is simply a well-conducted Boarding School for the Deaf, Dumb, and Blind—a place where their moral, mental, and physical education is well catered for.

The School is supervised by a man of heart, as well as mind, one who, after expert training and years of experience, thoroughly understands and ably discharges the grave responsibilities of his office.

We also desire to urge parents to send their children at not later than seven years of age, and to see that they get the full primary course. If, as Parliament has wisely decreed, it is essential for children blessed with sight and hearing to have a school course of not less than seven or eight years, surely a father should arrange to give his blind or deaf child at least quite as long a term. It is grossly unfair to limit such children's school term to three or four years; and, worse still, not to send them to school at all. The latter should be regarded as a criminal offence, and treated as such.

It is again unhesitatingly asserted that the Members of the Board are spending the money entrusted to their care wisely and well. The generous subscribers are providing an education which, in a measure, must bring strength and pleasure to sadly-afflicted children who are now living, and, while life lasts, must live in a sightless or soundless world. For these reasons we heartily commend the claims of the Institution to the practical sympathy of the citizens of New South Wales.

INFORMATION AND DIRECTIONS RELATIVE TO THE ADMISSION OF CHILDREN TO THE INSTITUTION.

1. Applications must be in writing, addressed to the Secretary, sent before the child is brought to the Institution, and should contain as full information as possible. The necessary forms can be obtained of the Hon. Secretary.

2. Pupils are admissible from any part of the State of New South Wales, and, under certain conditions, from other States.

3. No child deficient in intellect, subject to fits, or unable to wash and dress itself, can be considered a fit subject for admission; and no child, whose conduct or habits are deemed by the officers to be objectionable will be allowed to remain in the Institution.

4. No child shall be admitted at an age younger than five years, nor older than twelve years, unless under special circumstances, to be decided by the Board.

5. No order will be given by the Secretary for a child's admission until the medical certificate has been obtained, and it must be understood that no children are eligible for admission until every means have been tried for restoring their sight or hearing, as the case may be.

6. Children, on entering the Institution, are required to have two complete suits of clothing for school or week-day wear, to be of dark colour, and a better suit for Sunday, and to be provided with clothing (see list) by their parents and friends during their residence. Each child must be provided with a box or trunk, in which to keep clothing when clean.

7. Any amounts remitted to the Secretary for the purchase of clothing will be expended under the direction of the Board of Directors.

8. School fees vary according to the circumstances of the parents; the highest fee is £40 a year. If the parents are not able to pay that amount, a smaller fee will be accepted.

9. In the case of children whose parents are unable to pay any fees, a certificate of their inability to pay must be obtained from known individuals.

10. Fees are payable in advance, and date from the time of admission.

11. Children cannot be permitted to leave the Institution unless with the direct sanction and authority of the Board of Directors.

12. In addition to the ordinary scholastic subjects, every child in the Institution receives some form of manual training, further particulars of which are given on the previous page.

13. The vacations are 6 weeks at Christmas and 3 weeks at mid-winter; and it is essential that pupils should return to the Institution on the day fixed to commence duties after each vacation, "and with their clothing clean and in proper order." (See list.)

14. Pupils are expected to remain in the Institution until they attain the age of 16 years, and except under very special circumstances, no child will be allowed to remain after attaining this age. The attention of parents is specially drawn to this in the hope that they will realise the necessity for sending their children to school at an early age. Failure to do this means depriving the children of at least a portion of their education.

15. Except under special circumstances children will only be admitted at two periods of the year, viz., January and July.

16. It is requested that all communications be addressed to

ARTHUR H. LOVE, Hon. Secretary,
City Road, Darlington, Sydney.

SPECIAL INFORMATION.

"The object of this Institution is the education and maintenance, and, as far as practicable, the advancement in life of deaf and dumb and blind children."

The Institution is open to Subscribers and other Visitors on Tuesdays and Fridays, from 2 to 4 p.m., and at other times on special order from the Honorary Secretary or a Director.

The Parents and Friends of children are admitted once a fortnight, on Thursdays, between the hours of 3 and 5 p.m.

The children are permitted to leave the Institution to visit their friends once a month, on special written application being made to the Honorary Secretary.

When a case of serious or infectious illness occurs while a pupil is at home, it must be reported to the Hon. Secretary, and the child must not be returned to school until all danger of infection has passed, and a medical certificate to that effect produced.

Forms and all particulars for admission of pupils can be obtained of the Honorary Secretary.

Subscriptions and donations will be thankfully received and acknowledged by the Treasurer, the Secretary, or at the Institution.

The Meetings of the Board of Directors are held on the Second Monday in each month, at 3 o'clock p.m. The Ladies' Visiting Committee meet at the Institution on the last Friday in each month, at 3 o'clock.

The cost of passages to and from the Institution must be paid by the friends of the pupils, the Board having no fund for this purpose.

All communications to be addressed to Mr. Arthur H. Love, Honorary Secretary, at the Institution, City Road, Darlington, Sydney.

Money orders should be made payable to the Secretary or Treasurer, at the General Post Office, Sydney.

It is highly necessary that the Parents or Friends of children should notify the Secretary of any change of residence, so that, in case of illness, or other cause, immediate communication may be made.

The Public, Subscribers, and friends of the Institution are earnestly entreated to notify the Secretary of the existence in their districts of any Deaf and Dumb or Blind children, not under instruction, it having been a source of great regret to the Board to find that several children have passed the age of admission, simply from their not having come under the notice of some kind friends who would take the necessary steps to enable them to be brought within the advantages of the Institution.

HINTS TO PARENTS OF BLIND CHILDREN.

Remember that your child is just an ordinary child—deprived of sight—and treat him accordingly. Teach him to walk as soon as you would if he had his sight, and train him to use his limbs. He is dependent on the sense of touch (feeling) for much of the knowledge that is received by other children through the eye; and from the earliest possible time should be taught to observe shapes, sizes, weights, etc., by feeling things, and to find his way about the home and surroundings.

Do not make the mistake of imagining that because your child is blind it is necessary or kind to do almost everything for him. It is quite unnecessary, and, bearing in mind the fact that the more intelligent occupation the child has, and the more he discovers that he can do for himself, the less will he feel the deprivation of sight, it is positively unkind to bring him up in a helpless manner. Let him learn to wash and dress himself, and to attend to his other personal requirements, and to be neat and tidy. Teach him to feed himself, and be as particular over his table behaviour as you would be with a sighted child.

Teach him to walk correctly and carry himself well. Be very careful to check at the very outset any little objectionable mannerism that may show itself. Some blind children have a tendency to facial grimace, screwing the fingers into the eyes, rocking the body backward and forward, or from side to side, and if these practices are not stopped on their appearance they may develop into habits that will require years to eradicate.

Teach your child all the little nursery rhymes, fairy tales and songs that go to make childhood happy, and always endeavour that he may hear only such things as you would like him to remember.

Do not let him feel that his blindness makes him different to other children; but help him to realise that he is just the same as they, and "as good as anybody else." Let him help in all the little domestic operations in which children assist their parents.

Do not discuss his blindness in his presence—and show your sympathy for him by bewailing the fact that he is blind, but by helping him, in ways suggested above, and in other ways that will suggest themselves to any intelligent parent, to overcome the disabilities of blindness to the highest possible degree. Do everything necessary to secure his happiness—but remember that the surest way of making him miserable and unhappy is to "spoil" him by placing him outside any form of discipline.

As soon as he is old enough—at 5 years of age or thereabouts—send him to school. There he will be surrounded by people whose lives are devoted to the education and care of children such as he; and it is only there that he will be able to secure the education which will enable him to take his place in the world, and which will supply him with the knowledge and mental development necessary to his personal happiness and advancement!

Do not take your child for examination or treatment to any but a duly qualified medical man. Secure for him the best medical advice obtainable, but on no account go to any "doctor" who has no medical degree. There is grave risk of serious damage resulting from the interference of any unqualified person with such a delicate organ as the eye.

If you act on the lines suggested here, you will be doing much for your child. He will be brighter and happier at home, and when he comes to school he will be in a better position to benefit by the instruction given, and his educational advancement will be more rapid.

PREVENTION OF BLINDNESS.

It has been estimated that 40 per cent. of blindness is due to the disease Ophthalmia Neonatorum, or Infantile Ophthalmia. In other words, it is probable that four out of every ten blind people have lost their sight from this cause.

Ophthalmia Neonatorum is a disease which attacks the eyes of newly-born children, their eyes being infected by the mother during the birth. It is very dangerous and infectious, and unless prompt measures are taken on its appearance, it almost inevitably results in blindness. Sometimes the disease yields to treatment, but in this disease perhaps more than in any other is prevention better than cure.

The attention of parents, midwives and others is called to the following instructions, which, if invariably carried out, would do much towards minimising the amount of blindness in the world, and preserving the inestimable blessing of sight to children whose eyes are attacked by the dread disease, Ophthalmia Neonatorum.

1. When a child is born, see that the eyes are carefully and thoroughly washed out. In lying-in institutions and in other cases where there is danger of infection, the midwives should be instructed to instil a drop of one per cent. silver nitrate solution, or twenty-five per cent. Argylol solution into the baby's eyes.
2. Especially in the first week or two of the child's life, carefully examine the eyes for signs of inflammation (redness of the eyes or lide, discharge, or swelling).
3. If there is any suggestion of Inflammation, SEND FOR THE DOCTOR. Do not wait to see if the condition of the eye becomes worse—remember that the sight of the child may be imperilled.
4. Previous to the doctor's arrival, wash the child's eyes in clean warm solution of Boracic Acid every quarter of an hour; using clean cotton wool, and being careful not to use the same piece of cotton wool twice, and being also careful not to touch both eyes with one piece.
5. OBEY THE DOCTOR'S INSTRUCTIONS IMPLICITLY. Remember that once the child's sight is destroyed, it can never be regained; and remember, too, that carelessness or failure to properly carry out the doctor's instructions may doom the child to lifelong darkness.

The question of the prevention of blindness from Ophthalmia Neonatorum is a big medical, social and political problem. Other phases of this subject may be referred to at a later date.
